PHILLIPS LEONIDAS

The Supermanager Createspace Independent Publishing Platform Imagine what it would be like to go back in time to the 15th century Venice. And imagine what it would be like to meet your lifelong hero, Michelangelo. And imagine what it would be like if, on first meeting, you spill a tray of pasta and wine on that very same hero. Well, that's what happens to serious young artist Mark Breen. As the result of a drunken bet, Mark knocks out a painting of a toilet bowl. Much to his amazement, he sells it. In short order he's hailed as the new Andy Warhol and becomes an overnight sensation-and a very wealthy man. Soon, images of his toilet bowls are on more t-shirts, mugs, and calendars than Edvard Munch's The Scream. His friend and mentor, Hugh Connelly, afraid that Mark is in danger of losing his "artistic soul," advises him to go back to Italy and reacquaint himself with the "old masters." In Venice, Mark falls in love with Alexandra, a beautiful art restorer, but it's a one-sided affair. One night, hoping to win her over, he climbs up on a roof to find out who painted her favorite fresco. He falls off the roof and wakes up in 15th century Venice where he meets an innkeeper named Francesca, who looks exactly like Alexandra. And it gets curiously and curiously from there. During his stay-which is sometimes zany and sometimes frightening-he meet his hero, Michelangelo, who teaches him the true meaning of art.

Who has time to read text books? As a busy business analysis consultant and instructor, my free time is short and precious. That is why I like to read articles. They are brief and to the point. I like quick reference cards for a similar reason - they offer immediate help. I also like humor in the context of the subject. Laughter keeps me interested and awake. If you're busy like me, this book is for you. It is a collection of short business analysis articles, humorous but pertinent stories and quick reference cards. • If you are a business analyst practitioner, these articles will confirm best practices or provide you additional insight as to why they are best practices; no matter how good you are at eliciting and documenting requirements, you can always improve. • If you are a professor at an institution of higher learning, these articles can serve as a source for discussion at both the graduate and undergraduate level.
