Klasing & Company Building on his decades of experience as a consultant and project manager in the automotive industry, the author develops comprehensive and pragmatic recommendations for action regarding the digital transformation of the automotive and supplier industries. At the heart is the transition from a vehicle-focused to a mobility-oriented business model. Based on the catalysts of the digital change, four digitisation fields are structured, and a roadmap for their transformation is presented. The topics of comprehensive change in corporate culture and an agile and efficient information technology are covered in detail as vital success factors. Selected practical examples of innovative digitisation projects provide additional ideas and impulses. An outlook on the automotive industry in the year 2040 completes the discourse. MGMT4 Veloce Publishing Ltd This book presents the proceedings of the first vehicle engineering and vehicle industry conference. It captures the outcome of theoretical and practical studies as well as the future development trends in a wide field of automotive research. The themes of the conference include design, manufacturing , economic and educational topics.

International Conference on Pervasive Computing (Pervasive2009) was the first time the conference was held in Asia. Before reaching Asia, the conference made a long journey around the globe: starting in Zurich, traveling to Linz and Munich, then passing through Dublin before leaving Europe for the first time to be held in Toronto, followed by Sydney last year and now Nara, Japan.

Over the last few years, Asia has contributed to the topics of Pervasive Computing with research ideas, engineering and many innovative products, so it was wonderful to host the conference in Asia. When the Pervasive Computing conference series started in 2002, the integration of computing systems into everyday products was just beginning. Seven years later we now see - especially in many parts of Asia – the widespread use of computing technology embedded into our daily lives. Pervasive 2009 focused on the presentation and discussion of novel aspects of architecture, design, - plementation, application and evaluation of Pervasive Computing, thus enabling a closer and more frequent use of computing systems. As the ?eld of pervasive computing matures, the Pervasive Conference gains significance worldwide, not only among researchers, but also in industry and general society. Catalysts, Roadmap, Practice Cengage AU Representing Landscape Architecture offers a broad investigation of how the designed landscape is and has been represented: for design study, for criticism and even for its realization. It has been said that we can only realize what we can imagine. But in order to realize we must convey ideas to others as well as to ourselves. Representation is by no means neutral and the process of communication, the process by which the imagination takes its first form, itself necessarily limits the range of our design possibilities. Computers further remove from cognitive processes and raise new questions about methods and limits. Written by a team of renowned practitioners and academics, this book is the best available reference to date on the many dimensions of landscape representation .
