Christ's Way of Making Disciples University Press of America

Christ commanded the church to make disciples, to produce people who love and obey God, bear fruit, and live with joy. The crisis at the heart of the church is that we often pay lip service to making disciples, but we seldom put much effort behind doing it. For the pastor who is ready to put words into action, The Disciple-Making Pastor offers the inspiration and practical know-how to do so. Bill Hull shows pastors the obstacles they will face, what disciples really look like, the pastor's role in producing them, and the practices that lead to positive change. He also offers a six-step coaching process to help new disciples grow in commitment and obedience and practical ideas to integrate disciple making into the fabric of the church.

Proven Methods for Turning Believers into Disciples What does it mean to grow a "convert" into a "disciple"? And how do we help our people get there? Neil Anderson's Freedom in Christ ministry has been walking individuals through these steps for over a quarter century. Now he turns his attention to pastors and church leaders, teaching them how to help their people resolve personal and spiritual conflicts, including everything from difficult marriages to unrepentant sin to church disputes. Before someone can mature spiritually, they must be established alive and free in Christ through genuine repentance and faith in God. This means churches must resolve their people's conflicts as the first step to discipleship, rather than referring them to professional counselors. We as believers have the answers for mental and emotional problems, and through this ministry of reconciliation true discipleship happens.

Taking Back Your Faith from the American Dream FaithWalk Publishing

The Great Commission is to make disciples. Renowned church planter and pastor Ralph Moore shows leaders why a focus on making disciples is the essential next step once a church is planted. This biblical, practical handbook will guide churches of any size to focus their ministries around Jesus's command to his followers to make disciples of all nations. Making Disciples offers a model of church ministry that sees every member as a minister, and it will become an indispensable resource for equipping a new generation of disciple-makers.

The Lost Art of Disciple Making Thomas Nelson

For many people, church is there to meet their needs--with programs designed with them in mind. Strategic Disciple Making teaches these churchgoers to develop a servant's heart. Readers will discover that they control the destiny of their church. If they seek personal contentment, they must grow as disciples, and church expert Aubrey Malphurs explains the true meaning of the word. This refreshing resource offers a radical "how-to" for renewing faltering faith. It is perfect for burned-out ministers and downcast church leaders who want a more authentic discipleship experience.

The church does great things in the name of Jesus--feed the hungry, clothe the naked, put roofs over the heads of the homeless, fight for civil rights, provide for the needs of children, and many more good deeds. These acts are living out the hands and feet of Jesus to a lost world, meeting these immediate needs. These acts glorify God, however, are they fulfilling the 'great commission.' This book was written primarily as a means of teaching how to make disciples that make disciples. How do we fulfill the great commission? Should the great commission be the mission of the church? Is it in mine? Why not?This book was designed with small same gender groups in mind. After the first 7 chapters explaining what discipleship is and how to do it, each chapter thereafter fills in the content of discipleship. Chapters 8-28 each have seven verses listed at the end of the chapter for further study on the topic of the chapter. To best utilize this book as a training manual, I advise each person to use those seven verses as their personal time alone with God verse of the day. If you followed the plan of each verse at the end of the chapter as daily bible study and read one chapter per week then this book would cover approximately 6 months of training.My hope is that each person who takes this training manual serious would then take others through the same training... that we would make disciples that make disciples.

DISCIPLE-ing is twelve interviews with fourteen wonderful people, hearing their stories - their faith journeys, and how God impacted them in powerful ways. The book explores the elements of be-ing a disciple, make-ing disciples, and how God calls us to live out our God-given purposes. It's a wonderful journey through the lives of Christian believers from all walks of life - a fireman, a doctor, a BBQ entrepreneur, a former NFL player, an IT professional, a business president, a police officer, an electrician, a carpenter, school teachers, a government employee, and rescue mission leaders. Seeing God at work in powerful ways as they live out the Christian walk - and DISCIPLE-ing as they go. Then, the author, Steven R Harbaugh, looks at the biblical model of being and making disciples - what that looks like, and presents the Disciple-ing Matrix for the Christian life.

The twenty-first century Church has the same Holy Spirit power and many more modern-day resources than the first century Church, yet the first century Church had greater success in making disciples. Why? They followed the plan Jesus gave them, and He blessed it. But the more worldly progress we've made, the more we've deviated from Jesus's plan by choosing programs, entertainment, and socials with only surface-level encounters. We neglect to make a connection with the lost, and they see no real commitment from the church. So they come and go as we continue to meet and plan more programs. To end the cycle, we must go and make disciples as Jesus taught--investing our lives in the lives of others. Do you long to live the Great Commission and make disciples, but you're not sure how? In Be a Disciple, Make a Disciple, Ellie Littleton offers biblical examples and concepts that break down the hard work of discipleship into sixteen thought-provoking lessons. So go and make disciples. "This is to my Father's glory, that you bear much fruit, showing yourselves to be my disciples" (John 15:8 niv). "As the Lord's earthly ministry got under way, He began by making disciples and never stopped until He ascended into heaven. Had the disciples not followed His example, we would not be disciples of Jesus today. As Ellie's pastor, I've seen her live out the principles she teaches in this book. I highly recommend this book to all Christians, so we can all follow Jesus's command to make disciples." --Rev. David Warren, South

Most discipling strategies employ a "materials-oriented" approach - "If you take the disciple through this set of materials, they will be disciplined." Personal Discipling takes a "needs-oriented" approach. That is, let's first assess where the needs are in this growing Christian, discern what God is doing in his or her life, and partner with HIM in the process. The first eight chapters give practical, general help in what is involved in the discipling process. The next twelve chapters focus on initial follow-up of a new Christian - the first twelve things you should do with a new believer in Christ. The final section helps the reader lay out a plan for a lifetime of discipling, using the Personal Discipling Tool Kit. The approach can be used in a one-to-one mentoring relationship, or as a curriculum for small group discipling.

Love, Friendship, and Disciple-making Harper Collins

Over the last thirty years, many influential church leaders and church planters in America have adopted various models for reaching unchurched people. An "attractional" model will seek to attract people to a local church. Younger leaders may advocate a more "missional" approach, in which believers live and work among unchurched people and intentionally seek to serve like Christ. While each of these approaches have merit, something is still missing, something even more fundamental to the mission of the church: discipleship. Making disciples—helping people to trust and follow Jesus—is the church's God-given mandate. Devoted disciples attract people outside the church because of the change others see in their Christ-like lives. And discipleship empowers Christians to be more like Christ as they intentionally develop relationship with non-believers. DiscipleShift walks you through five key "shifts" that churches must make to refocus on the biblical mission of discipleship. These intentional changes will attract the world and empower your church members to be salt and light in their communities.
