READY TO SING

Hal Leonard Corporation

Originally published in 1867, this book is a collection of songs of African-American slaves. A few of the songs were written after the emancipation, but all were inspired by slavery. The wild, sad strains tell, as the sufferers themselves could, of crushed hopes, keen sorrow, and a dull, daily misery, which covered them as hopelessly as the fog from the rice swamps. On the other hand, the words breathe a trusting faith in the life after, to which their eyes seem constantly turned.

Its my greatest desire that you will find encouragement as you read the poems within the pages of this book. All these heartfelt, inspirational poems were inspired by God; I was just the pen (instrument) that God chose to get the job done. I sincerely hope that the words of each poem will lift your spirits and give you a peace and a comforting feeling knowing that our loving Lord can and will be as close to you as you need him to be. Know that with each writing of these poems, my heart was on the potential readers, and that each one would truly be inspired by the words. Thank you from the bottom of my heart, and I appreciate your purchase and support.

Stories Behind 50 Southern Gospel Favorites Alfred Publishing Company, Incorporated

From tent revivals to radio and records with a gospel music innovator Homer Rodeheaver merged evangelical hymns and African American spirituals with popular music to create a potent gospel style. Kevin Mungons and Douglas Yeo examine his enormous influence on gospel music against the backdrop of Christian music history and Rodeheaver's impact as a cultural and business figure. Rodeheaver rose to fame as the trombone-playing song leader for evangelist Billy Sunday. As revivalism declined after World War I, Rodeheaver leveraged his place in America's newborn celebrity culture to start the first gospel record label and launch a nationwide radio program. His groundbreaking combination of hymnal publishing and recording technology helped define the early Christian music industry. In his later years, he influenced figures like Billy Graham and witnessed the music's split into southern gospel and black gospel. Clear-eyed and revealing, Homer Rodeheaver and the Rise of the Gospel Music Industry is an overdue consideration of a pioneering figure in American music.

Easy to Sing, Easy to Play Hal Leonard Publishing Corporation Christian Southern Gospel Songs Word Search Puzzles keep the mind sharp and encourage the spirit. Your brain is a muscle. It needs to work out, just like any other muscle in your body. So, how do you keep your brain strong? Use it, stretch it, and push it to do more and to do new things daily. Word puzzles of any kind are helpful to force your brain to look at things in new ways. Challenging your brain keeps your mind sharp. More than any other thing, your spirit affects your emotions and your perspective on life. Your spirit is not a muscle, it does not need to be stretched or pushed. It does need to be nourished and fed. What you hear, what you see, and what you think about feeds your spirit. Surrounding yourself with positive Christian influences and thoughts keeps your spirit strong. Christian Southern Gospel Songs Word Search Puzzles are challenging. They are intentionally larger than most other word search puzzles-40 letters across and 40 letters down. The words can be horizontal, vertical, diagonal, and backwards. It may take longer to spot the words due to the size of the puzzle. This challenge is a good thing because it is exercise for your brain. If you get frustrated or stuck, the solutions are at the back of the book. Christian Southern Gospel Songs Word Search Puzzles are encouraging. As you look for the words in the puzzle your mind is paying attention to the message of the song titles. Memories of those songs are ignited. Your mind automatically shifts to positive thoughts of your Savior and your spirit is fed and strengthened. Christian Southern Gospel Songs Word Search Puzzles are not a waste of time. While you are having fun, playing a game, your mind stays sharper and your spirit gets stronger.
