The Airbus A319 is the smallest member of the A320 family in service with Lufthansa, measuring 33.8 meters from nose to tail. That's 3.8 meters shorter than the basic A320 model. But all the aircraft in this family have a lot of features in common. This means that pilots need only one license qualifying them to fly all of them.

This aircraft features Lufthansa's Europa Cabin which has one additional row and thinner seats than previous. This aircraft operates in a Business and Economy Class configuration. The number of seats per cabin is variable and may have as few as three rows of Business Class to a maximum of eight.
