Indiana University Press Textbook Ecosystem-based Adaptation Routledge This open access book tells the story of how Sweden is becoming a virtually cashless society. Its goal is to improve readers' understanding of what is driving this transition, and of the factors that are fostering and hampering it.

In doing so, the book covers the role of central banks, political factors, needs for innovation, and the stakeholders involved in developing a cashless ecosystem. Adopting a historical standpoint, and drawing on a unique dataset, it presents an academic perspective on Sweden's leading role in this global trend. The global interest in the future of cash payments makes the Swedish case particularly interesting. As a country that is close to becoming a cashless economy, it offers a role model for many other countries to learn from - whether they want to stimulate or reduce the use of cash. This highly topical book will be of interest to politicians, researchers, businesses, financial service providers and payment service providers, as well as fintech start-ups, regulators and other authorities.

MAKING COLLECTIVE GOVERNANCE WORK - LESSONS FROM THE EXTRACTIVE INDUSTRIES TRANSPARENCY INITIATIVE

UNESCO Publishing
Il volume si propone di analizzare e riflettere su come i sistemi di istruzione, formazione, lavoro e orientamento vengono interrogati dall'affermarsi di una nuova prospettiva, che individua come leva strategica delle future opportunità di sviluppo sociale, culturale ed economico, l'apprendimento permanente. Alcuni fenomeni, come la segmentazione e del mercato del lavoro, la polarizzazione della struttura dell'occupazione, la digitalizzazione, uniti all'emergere di nuovi rischi sociali, quali la crescita delle disuguaglianze e di nuove povertà, l'instabilità familiare, l'emergenza abitativa, hanno alimentato inedite forme di vulnerabilità sociale. Il saggio esamina alcuni di questi elementi di criticità e delle sfide in atto, nel passaggio delle politiche sociali dalla ricerca dell'uguaglianza dei risultati all'uguaglianza delle opportunità. Riflette sull'emergere di nuove e complesse competenze cercate dal mondo del lavoro, che possono dare corpo a tali opportunità, ma anche sulla necessità di una nuova governance, che metta al centro la persona e che renda esigibile il suo diritto all'apprendimento permanente. Se la sfida delle competenze, in tale scenario, è la sfida di questo primo scorcio di millennio, può essere vinta solo nella collaborazione tra sistemi e tra organizzazioni, non lasciando sole le persone di fronte alla complessità e ai processi di divaricazione crescente. A partire da un nuovo patto per lo sviluppo tra gli attori di tali sistemi sarà possibile costruire un learnfare, come sistema basato sulla garanzia di effettivo accesso a opportunità di apprendimento, coerenti con i propri progetti di vita e con le esigenze dell'economia e del mondo del lavoro.

LEAVING NO ONE BEHIND

Springer Science & Business Media
La riforma 'Quota 100' ha il merito di aver preso in considerazione e l'aspetto dell'equità sociale del sistema pensionistico con l'obiettivo di introdurre una maggiore flessibilità in esso; essa nasce per dare una risposta alla necessità di allentare i vincoli posti dalle riforme più recenti, nella convinzione che la 'Riforma Fornero' (Legge n. 214 del 2011) sia stata troppo 'brusca', determinando di fatto l'impossibilità di un ricambio generazionale nel mondo del lavoro, ora resosi improcrastinabile e, quindi, necessario. Prefazione di Matteo Salvini. How Active Citizens and Effective States Can Change the World Penn State Press

This book critically reflects on the context in which lifelong learning policies and practices are organized in Europe with contributions of researchers and policy makers in the field. Through a critical lens the book reinterprets the core content of the messages that are conveyed by the European Commission in the "Memorandum for Lifelong Learning", the most important policy document in the area, which after a decade from its publication still remains the vehicle for all current developments in lifelong learning in Europe. With references to research findings, proposed actions, and applications to immediate practice that have an added value for Europeans –but which either do not appear to correspond directly to what is stipulated by the European Commission, or are completely ignored as part of the lifelong learning process- the book offers an analytic and systematic outlook of the main challenges in creating the 'European Area of Lifelong Learning'. In times as decisive as the ones we are going through today (both in social and economic terms), a critical perspective of the practices and policies adopted by the EU Member States is essential. The book follows the same structure as the Memorandum in order to debate and critically approach in separate sections the core issues that Europe faces today in relation to the idea of making a 'European area of Lifelong Learning'.

The Soils of Argentina
 International Monetary Fund Reflective practice has moved from the margins to the mainstream of professional education.

However, in this process, its radical potential has been subsumed by individualistic, rather than situated, understanding s of practice. Presenting critical perspectives that challenge the current paradigm, this book aims to move beyond reflective practice. It proposes new conceptualisations and offers fresh approaches relevant across professions. Contributors include both academics and practitioners concerned with the training and development of professionals. Definitions of reflection (which are often implicit) often focus on the individual's internal thought processes and responsibility for their actions. The individual - what they did/thought/felt - is emphasised with little recognition of context, power dynamics or ideological challenge. This book presents the work of practitioners, educators, academics and researchers who see this as problematic and are moving towards a more critical approach to reflective practice. With an overview from the editors and fourteen chapters considering new conceptualisations, professional perspectives and new practices, Beyond

Reflective Practice examines what new forms of professional reflective practice are emerging. It examines in particular the relationships between reflective practitioners and those upon whom they practise. It looks at the ways in which the world of professional work has changed and the ways in which professional practice needs to change to meet the needs of this new world. It will be relevant for those concerned with initial and ongoing professional learning, both in work and in educational contexts.

OECD Publishing In 2012, a

Forestry Special Interest Group (FSIG) was founded within the Canadian Operational Research Society (CORS).

Besides a general commitment to promoting the application of operational research (OR) to forest management and forest products industry problems, the FSIG has two concrete mandates: organizing the forestry cluster at the annual CORS conference, and managing the editorial process for forestry-themed special issues of INFOR. The FSIG has been very successful in the first of these two mandates, with record attendance at the forestry cluster over the last four years, hosting of several special sessions, financial and in-kind support from the NSERC Strategic Network on Value Chain Optimization (VCO), and the

inauguration of the David Martell Student Paper Prize in Forestry (DMSPPF). This is the first compilation of forestry-themed papers since the inauguration of the CORS FSIG. The six pieces selected for the special issue, now published as a book, feature applications of OR to a wide range of forest management and forest products industry contexts, including supply-chain	planning, lumber production planning, demand-driven harvest and transportation planning, and fire-aware wood supply planning. This book was originally published as a special issue of the INFOR: Information Systems and Operational Research journal. PISA 2015 Results (Volume V) Collaborative Problem Solving Routledge With digitalisation, deepening	globalisation and population ageing, the world of work is changing. question of democracy in post-revolutionary Mexican society. Each chapter recuperates an event or particular historical sequence that sheds light on the relation between culture and sovereign exceptionality. Each moment or sequence stages a relation to language. In these speech scenes there is a disagreement between social actors (for example, disputes between peasants and intellectuals over words such as democracy, equality, freedom, proletariat, worker, revolution etc.). Democracy in this book is not just a type of Constitution or a form of society that politics affirms on a daily basis. It is the assumption and installation of egalitarian language. Democracy is therefore the momentary interruption or suspension of the police order.

 This is the first comprehensive book on Argentinian pedology. It discusses the main soil types of Argentina, their geographical distribution, classification, functions, agricultural use, ecological aspects, and the threats to which they have been subjected during centuries of intensive and extensive management. The description of the soils is accompanied by a complete set of data, pictures and maps, including benchmark profiles and an overview of the country's agricultural production. It also deals with future scenarios of the relationships between soil science and other disciplines and the main challenges that soil science will face in the future. Further, the book explores aspects of the main soil forming factors, such as climate, vegetation, geology and geomorphology, making use of new, unpublished data and elaborations, and presents a history of pedological research in Argentina.

includes special feature sections on the quality of drug data available to the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC), trends in drug use among young people and police-recorded drug offences. It also discusses one the most formidable unintended consequences of drug control 'the black market for drugs' and how the international community best can tackle it
