 This book analyses the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) as a powerful actor in International Relations by examining how the ASEAN community has evolved, looking specifically at its relationship with the EU with regards to human rights. The book adds to important contemporary debates within constructivist theory, shedding light on the need for 'critical' constructivism that emphasises language and contestation and what that may entail. On an empirical level, it challenges the idea of an 'EU-centrism,' demonstrating how ASEAN is the major driving force behind its human rights and community aspirations, as well as within the ASEAN-EU relationship. Furthermore, this book engages with the introspection surrounding constructivism by addressing the trouble with 'norms,' and instead unpacking the relationship between ASEAN and the EU to show language power in play. In particular, the book looks at how language, or rather coercive language, helps us 'see' contestation in action, something that researchers sympathetic towards the idea of ASEAN's 'resistance' have been unable to show through a focus on norms. Tracing the evolution of the ASEAN community and human rights aspirations in a new light, showing how exactly the EU remains an inspiration, but not a model, and more interestingly how ASEAN demonstrates power in the relationship, the book will be of interest to academics working on Asian Studies, European Studies, International Relations Theory and human rights. Honda MSX125 (GROM) '13 to '18 Motorbooks International

Krause Publications Advancements in research in psychological science have afforded great insights into how our minds work. Making an Impact on Mental Health and Illness analyzes contemporary, international research to examine a number of core themes in mental health, such as mindfulness and attachment, and provide an understanding of the sources of mentally ill health and strategies for remediation. The originality of this work is the embedding of psychological science in an evolutionary approach. Each chapter discusses the context of a specific research project, looking at the methodological and practical challenges, how the results have been interpreted and communicated, the impact and legacy of the research, and the lessons learnt. As a whole, the book looks at how social environments shape who we are and how we form relationships with others, which can be detrimental, but equally a source of flourishing and wellbeing. Covering a range of themes conducive to understanding and facilitating improved mental health, Making an Impact on Mental Health and Illness is invaluable reading for advanced students in clinical psychology and professionals in the mental health field.

Strange Encounters is a novel made up of three short stories. Each character is faced with an unexplainable situation. "The Lost Souls" of I-95 takes place in a rural town. A young girl and her father are killed on I-95 by a drunk driver that has been covered up by the North Carolina Highway Patrol to protect one of their own during the summer of July 3, 1986. The highway then becomes haunted by the two lost souls, who won't rest until justice is served. But twenty years later, a young highway patrolman comes along and is put to the test to solve the mystery.

Economic Cycles and Social Movements: Past, Present and Future offers diverse perspectives on the complex interrelationship between social challenges and economic crises in the Modern World System. Written with a balance of quantitative, qualitative and theoretical contributions and insights, this volume provides a great opportunity to reflect upon the ongoing conceptual and empirical challenges when confronting the complex interrelations of various economic cycles and social movements. By engaging wide-ranging ideas and theoretical points of view from different disciplines, different countries and different perspectives, this study breaks new ground and offers novel insights into the way the capitalist world economy functions as well as the way social and political movements react to these constraints. Different chapters in this volume bring about novel interdisciplinary approaches to study business cycles, economic changes and social as well as political movements, offer new interpretations and, while examining the complexity of socioeconomic cycles in the long run, present epistemological challenges and a wide variety of empirical data that will increase our understanding of these complex interactions. Honda Haynes Manuals N. Affective Health and Masculinities in South Africa explores how different masculinities modulate substance use, interpersonal violence, suicidality, and AIDS as well as recovery cross-culturally. With a focus on three male protagonists living in very distinct urban areas of Cape Town, this comparative ethnography shows that men's struggles to become invulnerable increase vulnerability. Through an analysis of masculinities as social assemblages, the study shows how affective health problems are tied to modern individualism rather than African 'tradition' that has become a cliché in Eurocentric gender studies. Affective health is conceptualized as a balancing act between autonomy and connectivity that after colonialism and apartheid has become compromised through the imperative of self-reliance. This book provides a rare perspective on young men's vulnerability in everyday life that may affect the reader and spark discussion about how masculinities in relationships shape physical and psychological health. Moreover, it shows how men change in the face of distress in ways that may look different than global health and gender-transformative approaches envision. Thick descriptions of actual events over the life course make the study accessible to both graduate and undergraduate students in the social sciences. Contributing to current debates on mental health and masculinity, this volume will be of interest to scholars from various disciplines including anthropology, gender studies, African studies, psychology, and global health.

THE MAKING OF A STOCKBROKER

"O'Reilly Media, Inc." For decades the crown jewels of Japan's postwar manufacturing industry, motorcycles remain one of Japan's top exports. Japan's Motorcycle Wars assesses the historical development and societal impact of the motorcycle industry, from the influence of motor sports on vehicle sales in the early 1900s to the postwar developments that led to the massive wave of motorization sweeping the Asia-Pacific region today. Jeffrey Alexander brings a wealth of information to light, providing English translations of transcripts, industry publications, and company histories that have until now been available only in Japanese. By exploring the industry as a whole, he reveals that Japan's motorcycle industry was characterized not by communitarian success but by misplaced loyalties, technical disasters, and brutal competition.

A technique for the daring, the desperate and the curious. Have you ever wondered how you can change the

programming that makes you think, feel and act the way you do? This breathing technique is self-governing and self-limiting but to begin with it is not DIY: you need support to face the changes and challenges until you are confident to go it alone. It is not for the faint-hearted, but it's amazing how desperation can make you brave! The joy of becoming who you really would like to be is hard to describe. To be able to live and love freely is worth working for. Once you have mastered the circular breathing and the idea that we all create our own reality, you can reinvent your life keeping these new thoughts in mind. The second part of the book describes the experiences during our upbringing that made us feel the way that we do.
This helps us to understand how we got to be like this. Once this is understood, we can treat ourselves more humanely and treat our children in a more helpful way. One of the experiences many of us faced is inadequate emotional safety. We had parents who were not able for whatever reason to provide their children with suitable acceptance and kindness to develop into confident individuals.

The book describes how to confront the issues that defeated us the first time around so that we can choose a different way to live now as adults.

Great merchants,
investors, and industrialists have long dominated the historiography of Boston business, but this collection of essays urges a broader definition of the city's business community. Without denying the economic importance of the major traders of colonial Boston, or the merchants of the China trade, or the men who built New England's textile industry, it also finds signs of vigorous entrepreneurial activity in places where previously historians have rarely looked - for instance,
among artisans, women,
and members of minority communities. The volume comprises fourteen essays which cover a wide range of topics, including:
women shopkeepers in eighteenth-century
Boston, African-American businessmen and political leadership in antebellum Boston, artisans as entrepreneurs, the decline of Boston's wine trade, forms of business

organization, and what merchants did with their money.

Firestorm Routledge From the world's first 4x4, the original Willys Jeep, to the technologically stunning machines used to tackle the daunting Paris-Dakar Rally, this beautifully designed book contains 1,000 color photographs of four-wheel-drive vehicles in action on- and off-road around the world. The vast range of vehicles depicted includes mainstream off-roaders, and Sports Utility Vehicles (SUVs), as well as more unusual vehicles such as the pre-war Citroen half-track and "Monster" 4x4 pick-ups, and a look at concept vehicles that point the way to the future. A visual feast for all 4x4 enthusiasts.
